How to Host an Accessible Event
This training is brought to you by the Enable Project, a coalition that brings together non-profit and social justice organizations and their staff to create channels for integration of people with disabilities within their organizations and movements. This training is designed to guide organizations on how to integrate and include people with disabilities in ongoing civic engagement. Doing so can empower people with disabilities to take advantage of their rights and participate in social justice and political movements. As a society, we all benefit when everyone is able to participate and contribute.

What is Domestic Violence (DV)?

• It is a pattern of controlling behaviors – violence or threats of violence – that one person uses to establish power over an intimate partner in order to control that partner's actions and activity.

• Domestic violence is abusive, disrespectful, and hurtful behaviors that one intimate partner chooses to use against the other partner.
Warning Signs of an Abuse Relationship

• Quick Attachment & Expression (I love you, marry me)
• Frightening temper (reckless driving, blow up)
• Rough physical treatment
• The Mean & Sweet Cycle
• Places blame on the other person
• Breakup Panic (threaten suicide)
• Unwanted sexual contact
• Emotional abuse (harassment, ridicule, killing self-confidence)
• Economic control/exploitation
Statistics – Disability and Abuse

• 92% of women with disabilities ranked violence and abuse as their top priority of topics affecting their lives (Berkeley Planning Associates 1996)

• Women with disabilities are at least 2 times more likely to experience abuse (Disabled Women Network 1991)

• 97% to 99% of abusers are known and trusted by victim/survivors with an intellectual disability (Accessing Safety Initiative)
Increased Risk

• Research indicates that people with disabilities face increased risks for violence compared to people without disabilities.

• The vast majority, 97% of abusers, are known by the victim who has an intellectual disability

• Of those, 32% were family members or acquaintances and 44% had a relationship with the victim/survivor specifically related to the person’s disability (Baladerian 1991)

• Survivors with disabilities often have experienced multiple victimizations and the abuse is longer in duration compared to survivors without disabilities.
Factors that Increase Rates of Abuse

1. Devaluation of persons with disabilities in society

2. Isolation and segregation

3. Increased exposure to potential abusers

4. Culture of compliance

5. Seen as “easy targets”
Tactics Used by Abusers

• Physical: use of restraints or hitting

• Sexual: taking advantage of lack of understanding about sex

• Isolation: controlling access to communication devices

• Emotional: ridiculing disability

• Economic: forcing victim/survivor to turn over benefits
Unique Challenges for Victims with Disabilities

• Understanding what happened

• Restricted ability to communicate

• High level of assistance needed from caregivers
